We Improve Lives.

We are a university with preeminence in transdisciplinary, experiential professional education, research and discovery, delivering exceptional value for 21st century students with excellence in architecture, business, design, engineering, fashion & textiles, health, science and social science – infused with liberal arts.

It is wonderful to celebrate this momentous day with you!

To graduates' family members and friends: Thank you for joining us in this celebration. And please know how grateful we are for the support you've long provided for your graduates. Few great achievements stand wholly on their own; and few of the accomplishments we applaud today could have come to fruition without the foundation of support—emotional, social, intellectual and financial—that you've provided.

To our graduates: My heartiest congratulations on what you have achieved. I admire the commitment and hard work that you invested to reach this day; and I'm proud of the knowledge, skills, and talents that you are ready to offer the world. I sincerely believe that the combination of who you are becoming as individuals and how this university has prepared you to be the professionals of the future uniquely enables you to lead in our ever-evolving world. I have no doubt that you will be the healers, builders and creators who guide society through times of change, challenge and opportunity.

As you continue the great journey of career and life, know that you will always be part of the Jefferson community.

Stay in touch, let us know where you're going—personally and professionally—and how best we can support you in lifelong learning.

With best wishes,

Honorary Degree Recipient

Skylar Tibbits

Skylar Tibbits is a designer and computer scientist whose research focuses on developing self-assembly and programmable materials within the built environment. Tibbits is the founder and co-director of the Self-Assembly Lab at Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), and Associate Professor of Design Research in the Department of Architecture. He is also the director of undergraduate programs in the Department of Architecture.

Tibbits has a professional degree in architecture from Philadelphia University (now Thomas Jefferson University), and a master's degree in design computation and master's degree in computer science from MIT. He has worked at a number of design offices including Zaha Hadid Architects, Asymptote Architecture and Point b Design.

He has designed and built large-scale installations and exhibited in galleries around the world, including the Centre Pompidou, Philadelphia Museum of Art, Cooper Hewitt Smithsonian Design Museum, Victoria and Albert Museum and various others. He is the author of the books "Things Fall Together: A Guide to the New Materials Revolution" (Princeton University Press 2021), "Self-Assembly Lab: Experiments in Programming Matter" (Routledge, 2016) and "Active Matter" (MIT Press, 2017), co-editor of Being Material (MIT Press 2019) and the editor-in-chief of the journal 3D Printing and Additive Manufacturing.

Awards include LinkedIn's Next Wave Award for Top Professionals under 35 (2016), R&D Innovator of the Year (2015), National Geographic Emerging Explorer (2015), an Inaugural WIRED Fellowship (2014), the Architectural League Prize (2013), Ars Electronica Next Idea Award (2013), TED Senior Fellow (2012) and in 2008 he was named a Revolutionary Mind by SEED magazine.

Student Speaker

Taylor Matulis

Taylor Matulis is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Law and Society from the College of Humanities and Sciences. She has been a member of the Student Government Association for all four years and is currently the Student Body President. Some of her biggest achievements include the addition of a Vice President of Inclusion position on the board, a proposal for a student mentorship program and the planning and execution of multiple events to promote student life on campus. Taylor has been an active member on several committees including the Parking Committee, the Bi-Centennial Host Committee and the Shared Governance Committee. Following graduation, Taylor plans to move to Pittsburgh, PA to be closer to her sister, Tessa Matulis, and to begin her career as a young professional.

Valedictorian

Ashley MacQuaid

Ashley MacQuaid is graduating from the College of Life Sciences with a Bachelor of Science in Pre-Medical Studies. As a dedicated Jefferson student, Ashley, a native of Bensalem, PA, has been involved in many clubs, organizations and work study opportunities, such as Theta Phi Alpha, Rhythm and Motion Dance Company, Global Medical Brigades and the National Society of Leadership and Success, as well as a teaching assistant for Anatomy I and II. She currently works as a professor for multiple sections of anatomy and physiology lab. During her junior year Ashley joined the Jefferson Special Olympics Organization and continues to coach gymnastics with club members. Ashley notes that the support she received from Thomas Jefferson University's faculty and staff created a community that allowed her to thrive within and outside the University.

Ashley's next step after graduation is to apply to medical schools to further her goal of becoming a physician.

Latin honors indicated in the Commencement Program are unofficial. Official Latin honors will appear on the student's official transcript and diploma.

As final action cannot be taken before the program goes to press, Thomas Jefferson University reserves the right to add or withdraw names from the list of candidates for degrees and certificates.

In curricula such as the degree program in Occupational Therapy, candidates complete formal course work prior to Commencement and fulfill additional clinical requirements during the summer. Students in these programs participate in Commencement Exercises but receive their diplomas only after all requirements have been satisfied.

Honor Societies

Delta Sigma Mu, Chapter of Chi Sigma Iota

Chi Sigma Iota is the international honor society of professional counseling. It was established in 1985 through the efforts of leaders in the profession of counseling whose desire was to provide recognition for outstanding achievement as well as outstanding service within the profession. CSI was created for counselors-in-training, counselor educators, and professional counselors whose career commitment is to research and service through professional counseling.

Their mission is to promote scholarship, research, professionalism, leadership, and excellence in counseling, and to recognize high attainment in the pursuit of academic and clinical excellence in the profession of counseling. Delta Sigma Mu, the local chapter of Chi Sigma Iota, was established at Thomas Jefferson University in 2016.

Lambda Nu

Lambda Nu, the National Honor Society for Radiologic and Imaging Sciences, was founded in 2001 at Arkansas State University. There are currently 184 chapters in 43 states and the District of Columbia. Thomas Jefferson University received a charter to form the Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Lambda Nu in 2002. Individuals are selected for membership in Lambda Nu on the basis of promoting the Society's objectives: fostering scholarship at the highest academic levels, promoting research and investigation in the radiologic and imaging sciences, and recognizing exemplary scholarship.

The University Mace

Originally a medieval weapon, the mace evolved from a short staff weighted with metal (used for breaking armor) into a bejeweled and sculptural relic. It fell into disuse by the 16th century as firearms made protective armor and some hand-to-hand combat weapons obsolete. In one of the earliest ceremonial uses of the mace, it was carried by the royal bodyguard before the French king in the 1200s. Examples of the mace as a symbol of authority in modern government include its use in the British House of Commons where the ceremonial mace has a presence on the Treasury table and in the U.S. House of Representatives, where it is placed on a pedestal to the right of the Speaker's podium when the House is convened.

Universities also used the ceremonial mace, borne by the chief marshal, during academic processions. The Thomas Jefferson University Mace, carried for the first time in the 1986 commencement ceremonies by Grand Marshal Robert Mandle, PhD, was designed and cast by Howard Serlick, member of the Guild of Mastercraftsmen, Winterthur Scholar and Chief Conservator (Gilding) of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. It was crafted by silversmith Eugene Zweigle and woodturner Michael Copeland.

The four-foot-long, 14-pound mace is made of ebony highlighted with lapis lazuli to reflect Jefferson's colors (black and blue). It features a miniature of Henry Mitchell's sculpture, the "Winged Ox of Saint Luke," symbol of Saint Luke the Physician, the original of which stands on campus beside the Scott Building on Walnut Street. The miniature was cast in silver by Zweigle.

Mitchell's original statue of the "Winged Ox," adopted by the University in 1976 as its symbol of clinical excellence, is mounted on a column containing the names of 50 medical scientists who have most advanced the art of healing. It also reflects the historical evolution of Thomas Jefferson University from its beginnings as Jefferson Medical College in 1824 to its current. The mace, a grand emblem of the University's heritage, is carried at the head of all formal academic processions.

The Presidential Medallion of Thomas Jefferson University

The President's Medallion was created in 2009 during the tenure of Robert L. Barchi, MD, PhD, the fourth President of Thomas Jefferson University. It replaced the previous, well-worn President's Medallion made in 1977, which had depicted four old corporate seals used in various eras of the institution's history.

The current medallion was designed and crafted by Tiffany & Company, New York. It consists of a sterling silver medallion suspended from a heavy, silver double-link chain. The medallion's obverse depicts the University seal; a bas-relief profile of Thomas Jefferson and the surround reads, "THOMAS JEFFERSON UNIVERSITY - 1824," the year the institution was founded. The reverse is engraved with the names of the four University Presidents.

Silver is a metal long-associated with medicine and is recognized to have anti-bacterial properties. Hippocrates (ca. 300 BCE) acknowledged the healing powers of silver and the ancients used silver bottles to keep water or wine from spoiling. The expression "born with a silver spoon in your mouth" comes from the Middle Ages; when the wealthy gave their children silver spoons to suck on to prevent disease. Like many academic traditions, the display of a heavy "chain of office" comes down to us from medieval regalia and represents the weight of responsibility for the wearer. The chain itself connotes strength in unity, as well as strong communication.

The Presidential Medallion is worn by the President at all convocations of the University.

The Jefferson Processional

The Jefferson Processional was commissioned by the Alumni Association of Jefferson Medical College, now named Sidney Kimmel Medical College and played for the first time on November 15, 1974, at the Sesquicentennial Celebration of the Sidney Kimmel Medical College of Thomas Jefferson University. This piece was presented to Thomas Jefferson University by the President of the Alumni Association, John J. Gartland, MD. It was composed by Burle Marx.

Academic Regalia

The attire worn at academic ceremonies evolved from the dress worn by clergy in the 12th and 13th centuries. Throughout the years, European universities have continued to show great diversity in their academic dress. American universities, when they decided to adopt academic dress in 1895, immediately established a code of regulations that today is followed by practically all American institutions.

The code provides for three types of gowns. Those worn by the bachelors are made of black worsted material and have long, pointed sleeves. Masters may wear either black silk or black woolen gowns, made with a long, closed sleeve with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom, and a slit for the arm. The doctors' gowns are black material, typically silk, with a full, round, open sleeve. They are faced with velvet and have three bars of velvet or chevrons, on each sleeve. The color of the velvet trim may be black or the same color as the velvet, indicative of the discipline, which edges the hood.

The black Oxford or mortarboard-style cap is worn for all degrees, but only the doctor's cap may be made of velvet and only doctors or presidents of institutions may wear a gold tassel on the cap. The tassel fastened to the center of the cap is normally worn in the left-front quadrant of the cap and is made of black thread.

It is the hood, however, that is the most important and distinctive feature of the American Code. The system established by the Intercollegiate Commission enables anyone attending an academic function in this country to distinguish at a glance the bachelors, masters and doctors, and, at the same time, recognize the university that has given the degree.

The doctor's hood, of black cloth matching the gown, is four feet in length and made with a wide panel. The master's and bachelor's hoods are three-and-one-half feet and three feet in length, respectively. They are made of black cloth matching the gowns and follow the Oxford shape. The hoods for all the degrees are lined with silk in the official academic color or colors of the institution conferring the degree.

The binding or trim of all the hoods is of velvet or velveteen, two inches, three inches and five inches wide for the bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees, respectively. The color of this velvet trim indicates the department or faculty to which the degree pertains, each department having been assigned a different color by the Intercollegiate Code.

DESCRIPTION OF ACADEMIC DRESS

The colors associated with many of the academic disciplines are

Violet	Architecture	Apricot	Nursing
White	Arts and Letters	Slate Blue	Doctor of Occupational Therapy
Tan or Drab	Business	Maize	Bachelor of Science
Light Blue	Education	Olive	Pharmacy
Orange	Engineering	Dark Blue	Philosophy
Teal	Family Therapy	Teal	Physical Therapy
Green	Medicine	Salmon	Public Health
Plum	Midwifery
